The comfort in wearing a sheath is greatly enhanced if a little "HYGEOLENE" is smeared inside and outside the top of a sheath just before use.

It will then be almost impossible for either husband or wife to tell if a sheath is being used, besides preventing it being torn through "dragging."

Rubber Check Pessaries and Safety Sponges should be smeared with "HYGEOLENE" as a double check.

Being non-greasy, "HYGEOLENE" does not affect the rubber and is also antiseptic.

HYGEOLENE is a thick fluid cream, prepared according to a formula supplied by a well-known Harley Street Doctor, and is highly recommended for use as a contraceptive, more especially in those cases where a rubber pessary cannot be worn with safety.

HYGEOLENE is perfectly harmless to health, is a non-irritant, and is absolutely trustworthy even in the most inexperienced hands.

DIRECTIONS FOR USE.

First remove cap from the tube of HYGEOLENE, and screw on the glass vaginal pipe; then turn the key until the glass pipe is filled. Gently insert the glass pipe into the vaginal passage as far as it will go, and very slowly give the key half a turn, when a sufficient quantity of the preparation will have been injected. A full turn of the key may be given if desired but half a turn is sufficient; then withdraw the apparatus. Not longer than one hour should be allowed to elapse after HYGEOLENE has been injected. Keep in a cool place. The rubber dust-excluding cap should be removed from the glass applicator before use and replaced after use.
